

Krinklglas® Architectural Glass

Translucent Fiberglass Resin Panels (RFP Panels) - Plastic Windows

For over fifty years Krinklglas has been used in countless translucent panel installations around the world. Krinklglas structural and decorative fiberglass reinforced translucent resin panels are a cost effective alternative to stained glass windows, leaded glass, and translucent glass. Krinklglas is ideal for both interior and exterior installations.

Manufactured in the United States with the highest workmanship standards, Krinklglas is made through an innovative process that combines a superior resin with invisible fiberglass reinforcement. The results are beautiful panels made of fiberglass reinforced plastic that will reduce your energy bills and withstand the elements.

Krinklglas translucent panels have been used in the set designs of "Conan" on TBS, "Ellen" on the WB, and the lifetime series "Drop Dead Diva".
